NEW DATE FOR WCC'S NATIONAL SPEAKER FORUM

Tuesday, May 29, 7 pm at Memorial Hall

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

We want to thank you – all of our ticket holders – for your understanding at this difficult time.

Due to circumstances beyond our control, the original date for the National Speaker Forum had to be cancelled at the last minute. The weekend Martha Raddatz, ABC NEWS Correspondent, was scheduled to come to Cincinnati was the same weekend the White House ordered strikes in Syria, and our speaker was required to remain in Washington to cover the news. Her topic could not be more timely!

"What in the World: Global Hot Spots and U.S. Foreign Policy."

Please know that the tickets for the April 16 presentation will be automatically transferred to May 29, 7 pm at Memorial Hall in downtown Cincinnati. If you plan to attend the rescheduled event, no action is required; simply bring your original tickets to the May 29 event, or appear at Will Call to receive them. If you cannot attend, but wish to donate the value of your tickets to Woman's City Club, we request that you please inform the Memorial Hall Box Office at (513) 977

-8838 (Tuesday – Friday, 1pm – 6pm). If you cannot attend, and wish to receive a refund, please contact the Memorial Hall Box Office. A limited number of tickets are still available on a first come basis. Contact the Box Office or order online at <https://www.memorialhallotr.com/cincinnati-shows/new-date-for-martha-raddatz-speaker-event-sponsored-by-womans-city-club/>.

Don't forget your opportunity to meet and speak with Martha Raddatz if you buy a ticket for the reception! Her book, A Long Road Home: A Story of War and Family, will be available for sale at Memorial Hall.

~ Nancy

Member Profile: Jill Bley

In her psychology practice, Dr. Jill Bley has testified in many trials for battered women who were divorcing or killed by their abusive partner, for transgender individuals who were abused, for rape victims, for sexual harassment victims, and for victims of employment discrimination.

Jill holds a BA, MA and PhD from the University of Cincinnati. She is a native Cincinnati. In her early thirties, she was co-founder and counseling and training coordinator at Women Helping Women/Rape Crisis Center. She has enjoyed watching the Women Helping Women/ Rape Crisis Center grow into the fantastic community service that it is. When she was working there WHW partnered with the YWCA to sponsor a community "Speak Out" of Battered Women (WHW had already started its Telephone Hotline for Battered Women) to help the YWCA bring attention to the issue in our community.

Her clinical psychology practice started when she was 40 and she is now in her 36th year of practice. "There is certainly no joy in the horrendous stories of abuse," she says, "but there is much joy in watching people heal." Her main specialty is sexuality therapy. She helps couples and individuals heal whatever sexual problems they may have. Bley has published a number of books on human sexuality.

A WCC member since 1989, Jill joined "because I heard about the organization from a friend who told me what the organization did. I was interested because I had been a political activist from the Civil Rights Movement to the Anti-Vietnam Movement to the Women's Movement," she said. "When I went to graduate school and then started my own clinical practice I didn't have time to be involved in political movements. By 1989 my two children were raised and my practice was doing well, so I had time again to get involved in civic affairs." Jill served on WCC's board of directors, as Membership Chair for a few years and Program Chair two years. She was on the Seasongood, Feist Tea, and the National Speaker committees and the Status of Women Action Group for a number of years. She helped plan the first Fountain Square Expo. She says she gets most joy in her life from her husband, children and grandchildren.

Jill's other volunteer activities include lobbying in Columbus for changes in the rape laws and credit laws. She was on the YWCA's Task Force to implement the harassment and menacing law and to help set up the Y's AMEND program. As a member of NOW she went to one of its national conventions in Washington, D.C. "And I got to meet Alice Paul!" she said.

ACT ONE UPDATE

All new ACT ONE members and ACT ONE alums are invited for an informal meet up and social gathering on May 5 @ 5 pm at Mad Tree Brewing on 3301 Madison Road in Madisonville – the first modern craft brewery to can its beer in Ohio. Wood-fired pizza is available!

This will be an opportunity to get to know one another, discuss the issues on the ballot May 8 Primary and exchange ideas about summer projects.

We are excited to announce that 15 new ACT ONE members have signed up in 2018! Applications will remain open on the websites of both the League and WCC, so people can join at any time. Melissa Rowland and Rebecca Elliot have been at work updating the data base and forming new ways of communicating and connecting with members through an open group on Facebook.

ACT ONE was formed in 2013 as a joint initiative of the Woman's City Club and the League of Women Voters to attract a new generation of young people and young ideas to our century-old organizations. It offers us all a unique opportunity to network across the generations, share viewpoints across our memberships, and join our voices as active participants in civic affairs. For more information, go to our website womanscityclub.org or contact us at actone@lwvca.org. Hope to see you on May 5 at 5 pm!

WCC MEMBERSHIP UPDATE

Join the Conversation on Wednesday May 23 at 5 pm and learn about Woman's City Club

WCC 's conference room, 3rd floor, Mt. Auburn Presbyterian Church.

What keeps an organization like Woman's City Club vibrant and relevant for over 100 years? We invite new members, but also other members for a discussion about Woman's City Club initiatives. We will have information about WCC's projects and programs. We would also like to hear your ideas. Light refreshments included. You are then invited to stay and observe our bi-monthly board meeting. RSVP 751-0100.

The Membership Committee is happy to report that WCC has had a steady stream of new members over the past several months. We've also been reaching out to friends who have been on our mailing list or who have attended our programs and asked them to join. We plan to hold orientation meetings on a quarterly basis beginning in May, an opportunity to learn more about Woman's City Club and connect with long-time members around shared interests.

WCC'S ENVIRONMENTAL ACTIONS

Members of WCC's Environmental Working Group, Lynn Hamamoto and Jeanne Nightingale, were instrumental in bringing world-renowned Dr. Vandana Shiva to Cincinnati as a speaker for Earth Day.

Cosponsored by Sustainability at Xavier, Green Umbrella Regional Sustainability Alliance, Ethics, Religion and Society at Xavier, Bridgeman Center for Dialogue at Xavier, the event was part of the Land Justice Series. The topic of her talk was:

Earth Democracy: Sowing the Seeds of Environmental Justice

Dr. Shiva has been named one of the top Seven most Powerful Women on the Globe by Forbes magazine in 2010. Trained as a physicist, she founded Navdanya, a national movement to protect the diversity and integrity of living resources, especially native seed, the promotion of organic farming, food sovereignty, and fair trade. Shiva fights to protect the biodiversity of the species as important for the survival of life on this planet, and she warns nations against the "desertification and monoculture of the mind."

Dr. Shiva combines the sharp intellectual enquiry with courageous activism. Among her many awards is the Alternative Nobel Prize (Right Livelihood Award, 1993).

Jeanne and Lynn had proposed Dr. Shiva as speaker for WCC National Speaker Forum, but when the committee voted this year to bring Martha Raddatz, they went to the Brueggeman Center for help to bring her to Cincinnati for Earth Day. Shiva told us that India will be the global host of 2018 World Environment Day on June 5. The theme is "Beat Plastic Pollution."

WCC's Environmental Action Working Group has been working with the BYO Bag Coalition whose goal through lobbying council and local merchants is to ban single-use plastic shopping bags in the Cincinnati area. We have become increasingly aware of the presence of plastics in our oceans, their effect on marine ecosystems and on human health, including endocrine disruption. Locally, the litter from single-use plastic carryout bags have compromised our waste stream and our stormwater systems, our landfills, our roadsides and parks. This has become a human-made environmental crisis that we have the power to rectify locally and collectively. Many other cities, states and countries throughout the world are passing legislation to put a fee on single-use plastic shopping bags or ban them altogether.

WCC's Environmental Working Group cosponsors the Changing Course Series. In April, they screened a documentary produced by UC professors, Dr. Adrian Parr, Jon Hughes and Sean Hughes, called "THE INTIMATE REALITIES OF WATER" one in a series of documentaries about how the diminishing resources of drinking water has become a shaping forces of lives around the world.

In May, we will screen and discuss Leonard DiCaprio's film, BEFORE THE FLOOD. (See flyer on page 7)

Changing CO₂urse: Local Solutions to a Global Crisis

SATURDAY, MAY 19 AT 6:30 - 8:30 PM

St. John's UU Church, 320 Resor, Clifton

Doors open at 6:00 pm

Screening of Environmental Documentary From Academy Award Winners

Leonard DiCaprio and Fisher Stevens

BEFORE THE FLOOD

The film is a collaborative project between some of the most recognised names in Hollywood in conjunction with National Geographic.

Spanning a course of three years, the film follows actor Leonardo DiCaprio as he examines the impact of global warming in various locales around the globe. The film documents the unsettling effects this phenomenon has on climate change while also discussing the potential of humankind to reverse them and prevent catastrophic disruption of life on our planet.

Before the Flood aims to encourage the common citizen to use their power to make the transition to a more sustainable society for the sake of the future of the natural world.

WOMAN'S CITY CLUB BOOK DISCUSSION FOR MAY

Killers of the Flower Moon:
The Osage Murders and the Birth of the FBI
By David Grann

10 am, Saturday, May 19, 2018

Home of Sarah Gideonse, 2570 Madison Rd., Apt. 20, Hyde Park

All members are welcome!

In the 1920s, the Osage negotiated to maintain the mineral rights for their corner of Oklahoma, creating a kind of “underground reservation.” Soon countless oil rigs punctured the dusty landscape, making the Osage very rich. And that’s when they started dying.

Execution-style shootings, poisonings, and exploding houses drove the body count to over two dozen, while private eyes and undercover operatives scoured the territory for clues. J. Edgar Hoover’s investigation began to overtake even the town’s most respected leaders.

Exhuming the massive amount of detail is no mean feat, and it’s even harder to make it entertaining. But journalist David Grann knows what he’s doing. Killers of the Flower Moon reads like narrative-nonfiction as written by James M. Cain. Most sobering, though, is how the tale is at once unsurprising and unbelievable. (Edited from an Amazon review.)

The book is available in multiple copies at the library and in paperback April 3.
